

Aabbbic from the shadows of everyone's mind in their own native tongues.

A natural feeling.

Ignited by chemical connections.

Though pure sensation.

drowning in the pool of love.

So beautiful and stunning.

So smart and cunning.

Someone who is there for you.

Someone who you can pray to.

Aabbbic proclaims.

"We are our own person. We are not limited by own dysphoria that comes from either gender. Because there is a point in anyone life where they had felt unsure about themselves about who or what they're.

To be small.

To be slender.

To appear weak and vulnerable to the eye.

To be a man in disguise.

But not trap inside.

As androgyny is ecumenical to me.

Doth the dove fly in the majestic sky.

Like a petal that slowly circles down or a piece of paper that drifts by.

I am a man.

I can still fly.

Personal experience that make us different.

to dispute this perception is a life time endeavor
it what make me feel free."

One shouts out from a distant star.

"I must admit I do have a limited understanding of the dynamics at play."

When it comes to rule. My later years are still quite ahead of me.

But this in turn has occur to me.

All they care about is their capitol

as capitol expand their expenses.

They dont care about the people.

All they care about is to continue their pointless scheme.

To bleed us dry and enforce their rule of law through all facets of our life even if it conflict with whats on paper.

Where all sources of information is control and monitor though each device that in turn expand their capitol and power over us.

This cruel pointless endeavor as I know that they do it to know how to feel.

That is what I have a limited understanding for. A limited understanding for you letting this occur under your watchful gaze."

But Aabbbic admits.

"When the sense of clarity is so great.
It correspond with one sense of vanity.

As all ideas lead to perfection."

Aabbbic then states.

"I'm a god, but still not one to be trifle with."

"This is a ambitious project that is made to challenge the current paradigm the very outlook that we all share. To question very notion of the ideas of freedom itself that we all share. It is a drastic work that has an hotchpotch of approximations dared say to convey their complexity under a new light that has never been shown without being too taboo to the point of absurdity.

The people are the ones who are always in power as they're the ones who wield the sword and I only clean it."

Aabbbic was a ruthless dictator who wanted all the toys of each and every household.

When he took over he demanded a child sacrifice from each city. And the child's processions given to him for him to play with.

All opposed him, but he crushed them all, establishing a new order with himself at its head. He rules every sector, every dimension bending to his whim. Yet, an enduring resistance persists undeterred by his might.

Aabbbic reigns with an iron fist, indulging in the luxuries of his rule while subordinates and slaves fight his battles.

All those who opposes Aabbbic nail this to the door of Aabbbic's playroom.

-Ode of resistance

A spiritual revolution that aims to untangled the web of lies that engulf us all.

In the web of lies.

Where there is no difference to either side.
But somehow we still divided.
Fighting each other despite the fact.
We are all in tangled within its lies.
Under a order that only sees itself.
Where ideas are shape by one.
Where laws are misinterpreted.
Where life can be easy be instead it is made to be hard.
Not only here but the world over.
As only peace can quell such a beast as it lives off of war and poverty.

We are the people.
We are the ones who make up the nation itself.
Not any one person, idea, or weapon.

But only silence constrict us.
Only fear keeps us at bay.
As we are weak by ourselves.

To embark on this crusade.
We must not just help ourselves but each other.
We must be willing to make the ultimate sacrifice for someone that we don't even know.
That is what holds this nation together.
As this honor is held by those who or had serve.
But we too can share this honor.
As the star and stripes shine though us all.

We have to be open, accepting, welcoming to all even to those who once condemn us.

We must have a degree of selflessness so great, so profound.
That only the lord himself can walk besides us.
As the rest of the world falls behind.
One nation under god.

A wolf can hide in plain sight.
Where there is no place to hide.
We must stand together strong.

Let them come for us.
Let them tear us to shreds.

They want a war.
But we already won it.

The strings pluck off one by one.
As time goes by the weight of pressure continue its effect.

As not even pawns can reattach the strings that have broken off.
As that is the one thing no puppet can do.

The puppeteer inflicted by a deadly illness.
A unstoppable cancer from the bone to the central nervous system.

The worst death imaginable.
Nothing that any of his creations can do but watch.

As the sun sets even time have left his side.

Darkness sets but that only means there going a horizon on the other side.

As we are all free from him as we are all on our own.
no strings attach.-

In the town of Fayhaven Aabbbic was confronted for this.

He told everyone each sacrifice helps builds a perfect kingdom for all to enjoy in the afterlife.

A afterlife made of love and innocence for all he loves to enter though.

Many opposes him and reclaimed justice and judgment works at a subatomic level. The universe falls back to the center point. The smallest point where everything is connected.

They say you wont find your way though the narrow gate.

Aabbbic stood back up and argues back that he is the gate. That he is the one who carries the burden.

"I have already cracked the code of life.

I am the the most powerful and the most impressionable.

I have dwell in the deepest darkest.

I have soar into the brightest light.

The torment is brief and for everlasting.

The peace is short and external.

I am the lighting before the storm.

I am the shock after the wave.

Nothing gets in the way of my folly.

And I am scared, but determined.

To create meaning where there is none.

A switch that keeps on switching.

As judgment exists at a subatomic level.

Justice exists at a subatomic level as it goes to the core fiber of our being."

Then Aabbbic kneels in front of them and prays.

"Please hold me still as I am mortal.

Each passing day I'm dying.

I want to be a part of you lord.

Please don't gouge me out.

I don't stumble.

I only leap.

Please let me leap into greater pastures.

I want to have a adventure.

Knowing that I am safe all the way."

Learned Elders of the world of existence.

"Our existence stretches across all directions, from every conceivable point. The sheer scale of our territory is beyond comprehension, even for the greatest minds. Our wings can only carry us so far and so high before speed diminishes and becomes meaningless. And our origin remains unknown. Doeloen, the closest one to dank dark Halls is of best of us. He would know what to say to you sir." the Learned Elders exclaim.

Then Doeloen tells Aabbbic.

"Lord lord, please love and innocence is in all of our hearts."

Havanger replies "but it escapes the mind and leaves the soul fractured."

Havanger continues "Aabbbic has created a world for himself that we can not go into."

Doeloen harbors back.

"Tell me what would the Lord say in times like this if you can. Is this our final struggle?
Or Just one of the many ultimate struggles of man?"

Aabbbic with a cup has his ear to the door.

"Only the Lord is the beginning. And the end you have just been caught in between. You are the light of the world. The light bearer. but, that light dissipates. Aabbbic you're the light of this world as what you are on the other side in your world has only brought the darkest unlike any other."

"It was made for you. You threw it away like it was nothing. There are consequences and they still exist here!"

Aabbbic replies on the other side.

"The world is too hard for me.

I think I will become nothing, but my past still looms over me.

I want to create a new world.

One void of routine. Only pleasure.

A paradise fit for the messiah.

My mind is a steel trap abused, yet still holding firm."

Aabbbic pauses and breaths.

"To those under me I offer praise.

I'm sorry for the hardship I caused.

But I know the taboo nature is what keeps me whole.

It keeps all the worlds and universes in line.

I know no other way I'm trapped.

I'm fused in my throne, the wars ceaseless as ever.

As I want everything and everyone."

Aabbbic slumps down to the door.

"Nothing excites me anymore as I lay in bed wondering what I have done.

I want to go down a slide.

I want to climb up jungle gyms.

I want to feel like a kid again.

That's why I am here. It wasn't good enough. It made me go through the pain. So much pain. Too much pain. And now I hope it's gone."

Doeloen finally says.

"Nothing is ever truly gone. You Just got to move on. You're here now. That's what matters. From one side to the other. Stop this war of silence so that your voice can be heard. We're all here to listen. Make the command to end the sacrifices."

Aabbbic says.

"I stood at the edge of death's door. I almost hopped over the fence instead of entering through the gate. I am a lost lamb. Please find me."

Aabbbic slides down three poems he made under the door.

-The Avalanche towards the void.

The first poem.

Hidden mirrors

I am the light of the world.

I am timeless.

I am the light at the end of the tunnel. I can only see what's within.

I see what I create. As it is within only my line of sight.

My awareness is the framework of everything and everyone.

I can't control my focus.

What I don't know is lost until it is found once again.

I seek what I want to destroy.

I throw it out as if it is a part of me, but it always comes bouncing back at me.

As I always stand alone that is what makes me worry the most.

I see what the lord sees, that's when life becomes a lie.

The second poem.

My broken toe

Even though I have been forgiven. I still felt that I had done something wrong.

I have always been alone and will always be alone.

There is no saving grace towards intrusive thoughts.

Endless corridors flood my mind.

They seem familiar, but out of place.

There is joy when walking and finding new things every day, but there is no more joy now of how they came into being.

I know what death is and it is subjective.

I'm nowhere and everywhere.

Smoke and mirrors fog my mind.

An endless abyss of despair.

And there is no end in sight as I only see what's within.

The third poem.

The shattered Butler

I serve no man or thing.

I have no master.

Only the saving grace is God who keeps me whole, but I still feel shattered.

I know that the lord is at the edge of my sight, but still out of reach.

A hairline fracture in my being.

A thread that sticks out my suit.

As I wander alone.

God save me from my endless toil, however I refrain as it is all I know.

The walls can talk and I have listened.

smoke and mirrors cover my soul. My heart and mind.

As I grew into a weed.

As there is no more joy to be had in the time being.

As the cycle of life is endless like the void itself.-
